It was noted that currently there are 4 safety alerts for 2015 and there had been a decline of the number of alerts over the past few years. It was suggested to review the possibility of review and determine if a shared data based could be a viable option to share information amongst drilling contractors in the region. Note: It was suggested that this maybe a pre-determined action by the IADC to reduce the number of alerts. It was agreed additional follow up was required to confirm this and to assess the reasons why. It was noted that BSEE had introduced a system
